David's News

Blessings y'all!

I am 2/3 of the way through a tour of the USA including workshops or conferences in North Carolina, Missouri, Delaware, Nashville, Florida and Illinois. This may have been the most profound trip of my life - I believe God has had me declare exposure to the "giant of false worship" in the church. This included the worship of anything but YHWH God (Worship), calling things "worship" that are not, robbing the ordinary people of their ability to worship and using "worship" to achieve man's agenda! -- War over worship has been declared again!

I'm still waiting to get the CD to hear exactly what I said!!! Here's some news of things happening in banners this last month. David

Missouri Celtic Fire Conference

I had the privilege to take part in the banner workshop in Newport, N.C. on March 11, which turned out to be much more than a workshop! We had a wonderful time of worship, teaching, transformation and networking. A group of people from a fellowship in the New York City area heard about the workshop and came hundreds of miles to participate.

We live on the coast of North Carolina where there is a strategic port.

Many of the Marines deployed to Iraq head out from here. After the workshop, we went to the beach access closest to the port and made prophetic declarations over our port and county as the sun was setting. People on the beach noticed the banners and asked what we were doing. One family asked us to pray for them as well! David and his associate Lynda Turnbull were the recipients of major impartation as well. A local group of believers called The Body of Christ, who are pressing in for revival in our county, invited David to minister and we had a great time of worship with the banners. We also received a warning about bringing old hurts with us into the new season and about being deceived into going back to the things we have left behind. We are excited and eager to move forward in God. Nikki NC USA Read the full story

"The babies at church watch banners like most kids watch cartoons."

The prophets say I 'battle with the Heavenly Angels' during Praise and Worship. I know I soar with the Eagles sometimes. I see the presence of the heavenly one when I banner. The Holy Spirit taught me to carry the anointing and stand my ground with the enemy during praise and worship.

My granddaughter is 3, she loves the banners already. The babies at church watch the banners as 3 year olds watch cartoons. So this must be such a GOD-THING and the beauty of it all is just our reward for sharing with HIM.

Banners Do Affect the Atmosphere

This image captured an orb of light "floating" over Kyle Hoenes' head as he spins "The Nations" banner at a recent workshop in St Louise Missouri. It is the larger of many such orbs in a number of photos taken that weekend. This is the second time David had seen orbs of light appear around people worshipping with banners.

Rather than jump to conclusions he decided to investigate what natural explanations there might be for such a phenomenon being captured by a digital camera. He looked for "sceptics" who had expertise in digital photography. It seems likely that the orbs could be caused by the static generated by the banners moving through the air. This static then "pools" in the air with enough concentration to deflect a strong light source (in this case from above) and bounce light into the camera lens which then records it. No matter what the final explanation is, these floating orbs of light are evidence that wielding banners definitely alter the atmosphere!!! It seems they stir it up and in the process give off enough static electricity to bend, bounce or otherwise alter light!

That's good enough for me!!! Read the full story
